

Gimme Shelter aims to raise funds for three weaving centres for women in remote communities in East Timor. But it's not just about bricks and mortar—it's about helping East Timorese women weave positive and sustainable futures for their families and communities. As the backbones of society in East Timor, women work hard to provide for their families in whatever way they can. They often live in difficult environments far from hospitals, supermarkets, public transport and other services we take for granted. But while many lack material wealth, they have amazing weaving skills and an incredible zest for life. By utilising these skills and their abundant energy, they have opportunities to earn the cash needed to pay for simple things like a bus ride to a hospital and school fees for their children's education.

At the end of this financial year in June 2010 we are asking you to help support these women through a donation to our Gimme Shelter campaign. We also ask that you pass this information through your networks, share it with your family and friends and help us make this important, life-changing project a reality for our East Timorese sisters.
